"Old Wallinga", who's history is associated with the Cox and Loneragan families, is a beautiful example of Victorian architecture.

Situated on approximately 26.2 hectares just 7 kilometres from Mudgee and having cedar joinery (including fireplace surrounds and bookcases), 12ft ceilings and spacious rooms, this is a beautiful home.

There are four bedrooms, the main with ensuite bathroom, plus a separate guest toilet.

Living space comprises a formal lounge with marble fire surrounds, formal dining room, library with open fire and cedar bookcases, and a sitting room which also features an open fire and cedar bookcase. The property even has a cellar with wine storage racks.

A sympathetic extension C1990 has a modern W.A. origin kitchen with sunny breakfast area and an enclosed and tiled sun verandah.

The former sandstock brick stables can be found along a
